

Alice Naomi Speed

April 22, 1920 - September 5, 2014

Alice Naomi Kinchen Speed was the second child of Herbert Bailey Kinchen, Sr. and Vera Louise Moore Kinchen. She was born April 22, 1920, in Baldwin, Louisiana. At an early age, the family moved to Orange, Texas, where she completed her education at Moton High school.

Alice started her college career at Sam Houston College in Houston, Texas, where she met and married her first husband, Robinson Adelaide Burton; to this union they had a daughter, Evelyn Marie. Alice moved to New York City, New York, where she worked at her first love and hobby as a seamstress.

She later joined her family in Berkeley, California. She received Jesus Christ as her Lord and Savior and joined the family of God at Taylor Memorial United Methodist Church. She was very active with the United Methodist Women and the Sunday School Department. Alice met and married her second husband, Walter Speed; and to this union they had three children, Anthony Glenn, Vera Eleanor, and Elizabeth Andrea.

Alice retired from the California State School for the Blind as an Instructional Counselor. Alice was affectionately known as “Mother”, “Mommie”, “Grandma”, GG, “Ms. Naomi” and “Mamma Speed”.
