

Clara Mae Hammons

September 26, 1932 - December 21, 2012

Obituary

Clara Mae Hammons was born September 26, 1932, in _____ Louisiana to Newton Carey Sr. and Bertha Jackson Carey. Both parents preceded her in death. She was the oldest of ten children. Two sisters, Patsy Ruth and Norman Jean, as well as twin brothers, Doc and Steve, also preceded her in death.

She received her education in _____. Clara Mae was a very education woman and did not play when it came to school and if she was part of your childhood you know exactly what this means. Clara Mae was an employee at Daniel Webster aka Webster Academy and Frick Jr. High while her three children attended each school, Clara was also the president of the PTA at Webster Academy.

In the summertime Clara Mae had Renee', Sandra, and Donna in vacation bible school. After that let out off work. And best believe Clara Mae took all of her children wherever they needed to go they knew nothing about AC Transit until they got older. In fact, Clara Mae took her children, grandchildren, family and friends wherever they needed to go, whenever they needed to go. She never said, "No I don't have time, see if you can get someone else" never.

Clara Mae was one of the sweetest women in the world, a very caring and understanding woman, who helped everyone who she came in contact with. She loved going to church and would quote you a bible scripture quickly. She lived her life serving GOD.

She accepted Jesus Christ as Lord in Savior unto her life at an early age. She attended Little Mt. Zion Baptist Church in Colfax, Louisiana.

Clara Mae later met and married Earnest Hammons and to this union five lovely daughters were born.

Clara Mae attended Evergreen Missionary Baptist Church under the pastorate Dr. J. L. Richards.

She departed her beautiful life on December 21, 2012, at St. Rose Hospital in Hayward, California.

Clara Mae was preceded in death by her husband, Earnest Hammons, daughters Lisa Michelle, Danielle, and Donna Regina Belt, grandson John Hope Belt II, brother Lee Dale Carey Sr., nephew Lee Dale Carey Jr. and niece Alicia (Lisa) De Vaunya Carey.
