

Stephanie Ann Boiling

January 1, 1955 - November 1, 2013

Stephanie was born in San Francisco and graduated from San Francisco State University. During the 1990's she began the first of several trips to France. On August 11, 1999 she took her first trip to Japan. Later in the next decade she logged her first dive in Hawaii.

Stephanie and Maki were working together on a book for children. Here is the latest installment Stephanie was editing, but her pen stopped abruptly at 11:30 a.m. on November 1, 2013 when she departed from us.

From time to time while beachcombing along the western Pacific coast, people have been fortunate to find a beautiful glass ball that had been used to float a fishing net. These balls come from faraway places, often as far as Japan. This is the tale of the experience as told by one such float.
