May 7, 1981 - June 10, 2022

Terra Lynn Hightower was born May 7th, 1981 in San Leandro, California to her parents Lisa Hood and Tyrone Hightower. Terra attended schools in Oakland and Richmond, California and was proud to claim that she was from both “Oakland and Richmond” after being raised equally in both cities as a child. She earned her living as a home health aide over the years. Terra enjoyed cooking, loved food, dressing up, matching her clothing and makeup, she loved her nails done, her blonde braids and her favorite color pink. She enjoyed all kinds of music listened to rap and gospel she also enjoyed any of T.D. Jakes’ sermons. Juanita Bynum was also one of her favorites. She really enjoyed church and would give to the church when she could. Terra liked going out and taking trips. Terra enjoyed conversations with people. She liked meeting new people, spending quality time with her auntie Vanessa brought her joy. Her auntie was her rock and confidante. Terra would often be seen holding Vanessa’s photo and kissing it after Vanessa’s passing. She also loved the time God gave her to be with her mother Lisa. She loved her younger sister Alisha and their time spent together was priceless to her. A daddy’s girl, she loved, admired and cherished her father dearly. She always spoke highly of him to everyone. If you’ve met Terra, chances are, you’ve heard all about “Her Daddy”. She also loved to spend time with her granny, Helen, who called her “My Terra Lynny Lynn”. They had a very special bond staying up late at night watching movies, eating ice cream and talking. Terra also enjoyed living life with her many cousins. Her laugh was contagious and could be heard throughout the house. Her smile, big and beautiful. She could change her voice tone from soft and sweet to speed-talking when she was excited and happy. She leaves to mourn her father Tyrone Hightower, three brothers Tyrone Jr., Dejon Hightower, Joshua Deuteronomy-Dunlap, her only sister Alisha Robinson, grandmother Helen Hood, a host of relatives on both sides of the Hood and Hightower families. She is reunited in the arms of her mother Lisa, auntie Vanessa, and grandmother Erma Hightower for eternity. A comfort she would tell us, "It is well with my soul. I'm good." Terra Lynn was loved by many and will be deeply missed.
