

Vaipou Violet Falealili

April 24, 1938 - March 6, 2019

Vaipou Violet Falealili, age 80, passed away Wednesday evening on March 6, 2019 at San Leandro Hos-pital in San Leandro, California.

She was born on April 24, 1938 in American Samoa; the daughter of Eperu Ta'amu and Fesui Lagai.

In the 1960s, she became one of the first church's pioneer of the San Francisco Samoan Assembly of God serving under the leadership of Reverend Fa'asavala and Fa'amaini Magalei. This would later then lead her into a pastoral role of a Good Samaritan Church in San Francisco in the early 1990s. When her husband, Reverend Taulagi Falealili (deceased) laid to rest, she continued to contribute and help other churches assisting them with mentoring and becoming a leader within the women's church ministries; the Long Beach Good Samaritan Church, Garden Grove Samoan Assembly of God, River of Life Assembly of God Church in Castro Valley, California, New Hope Assembly of God in Sacramento, and the Lighthouse Assembly of God in Pittsburg, California.

One of the most important values that she cherished was family. Her children was accustomed to Sunday services in their upbringings and actively involved in church activities. The grandchildren would follow after the path of their parents, aunts, uncles, and cousins due to their grandmother. She loved her family whole heartedly and would do anything for them. She welcomed strangers or non relatives and expressed acts of love towards them regardless of who they were. Her love highlighted a character of a mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, and a friend to anyone she would come across.

It is a blessing to know that when God called her home, her legacy continues to leave an impact on her family and friends through her faithfulness unto God. She will continue to live on in our hearts, spirits, and minds until we see her again.
